SLAS EUROPE 2018

Tecan and Titian will be presenting their long standing partnership in software integration combining sample management and laboratory automation. This builds on the historical work to allow Mosaic users to be guided through setting up a run on a Tecan liquid handler. The topics will range from the humble beginnings of the Genesis integration with Mosaic - to the new Fluent® and FluentControl™ updates which enable the combined software to deliver high capacity and outstanding speed. The platform provides excellent precision, throughput and walkaway time with live a inventory updates. Also to be discussed will future directions to further enable both companies to make it easy to get more done, more confidently and hence support scientists in delivering life-changing research.
